Questions to consider

- What parts of the code do you most agree with?

- What parts of the code do you least agree with?

- What is something important that you think the code omits?

- Should such ethical codes be written by organizations like ACM?

- Is it surprising that you probably had no idea this document existed even though many of you are members of the ACM?

- Other?