

Appendix R: Budgetary and salary information

This Appendix includes three components.

The first is a 10-year budget history of the department. The left-hand columns are “official” University of Washington budget data. The right-hand columns are “unofficial but perhaps more useful” departmental budget data in which, for example, multi-year grants are attributed across the years in a rational manner regardless of the behavior of the funding agency, and gifts are tallied. (An idiosyncrasy: our Professional Masters Program budget is reported separately from our “regular” College of Engineering budget.)

The second is a list of major gifts – typically endowments – that are not included in the budget history.

The third shows faculty salary information for Autumn 1999 from the Computing Research Association, comparing UW to the other top dozen departments nationally.
