Brad Chamberlain

Hobbies: Music (listening, seeing shows, playing), being outdoors, alternative comics, cooking

Turn-ons: Sparkling eyes, a frequent smile, intelligence, a sense of humor, kindness, midriff

Turn-offs: Judgementalness, closed-mindedness, laughing too loud, tongue piercings

Perfect Date: An authentic Italian dinner followed by live music at a small club, dessert & tea at the B&O, and then …?

Perfect Mate: Balance is key: someone easygoing enough to roll with the punches, but opinionated enough to be interesting; who is similar enough that we mesh, but different enough to remain fascinating

James Hewitt

Hobbies: Skiing, hiking, sailing, running, blading, and anything that gets me away from computers

Turn-ons: Intelligence, beauty, understanding, great sense of humor, sexually rockin', mature, self assured, athletic, kind, considerate, bold, and loving. Can get up... dance the tango with me on the top of a downtown building and come off looking like we were meant to be there

Turn-offs: Jealousy, power complexes, attitude, smoking, communicationally challenged, needy, supreme Goddess of the universe and God's gift to men.

Perfect Date: Beautiful summer day, heli ride to the San Juans, a convertible to tool around the Islands, dinner at the best restaurant we can find, drive to a house overlooking the strait; a big fire going with a bottle of good Cabernet and some Beethoven playing in the background as the sun dips below the horizon. A big telescope and hot tub out on the deck and a giant King+ size feather bed for later.

Perfect Mate: A cross between Angie Everheart and Stacy Williams

Aaron Timss

Hobbies: Drinkin', gamblin', romancin' Sharon Stone, bubblebaths w/ rubber ducky, performing with the Disney on Ice troupe, croc wrestling, cheese grating, extreme quilting, mending broken hearts and broken PC's all over Sieg since 1998

Turn-ons: Swiss Foods Int'l Coffees, Q-13 anchorwoman Leslie Miller, long romantic walks through the tear gas filled streets of Seattle, Australian toaster biscuits, hot pants, bad disco, Ginger Spice and all things nice...

Turn-offs: Crappy kissers, concussion grenades, Old Navy commercials, telemarketers, military recruiters, crack ho's and Fran Drescher's voice.

Perfect Date: Vegas baby, VEGAS! (Open 24 hours)

Perfect Mate: I quote Tom Jones... "She's the kind you'd like to flaunt and take to dinner, SHE'S A LADY!", with the sophistication enough to recite every line from 'Top Gun', able to hold her liquor, beat me at blackjack, kick me when I'm an idiot, wrestle me to the shag-carpeted floor, and then "Take my breath away". She remembers my birthday and how to spell my last name. (Or pretty much anyone that hasn't dated Mr. February yet)

Brian Tjaden

Hobbies: Spontaneous travel, particularly to adventurous locations, any and every opportunity to play sports, and my friends, because let's face it, everything is more fun with friends.

Turn-ons: Spending lots of time with someone fun, hot tubs, great beauty, poetry, pez, exotic locations, dancing, rocket science, fog machines?, someone who can sing, massages, attitude and insight, eyes I can spend hours staring into, poetry, athleticism, great hair (mine), fireplaces, and romance.

Turn-offs: People who don't like me.

Perfect Date: It would last about 50 years and get more and more exciting as it progressed. It might start with flowers and wine and would certainly involve the beaches of Hawaii and the cafes of Paris. It might result in mild criminal records (use your imagination) and could end with, dare I say it … Spice World.

Perfect Mate: Beautiful eyes and lots of fun, someone who makes me happy

Jeff Hightower

Hobbies: I guess I've always been a mountain boy -- climbing, mountaineering, skiing, camping and living free in wide-open spaces with beautiful scenery amongst the furry woodland creatures. But my inner child is keen on the finer beauty in life like music, people, and poetry. Pretty crazy balance, eh? Oh yeah, and I like to eat.

Turn-ons: Laughter, sunshine, inside jokes, and smiles meant just for me

Turn-offs: Gambling, dryer lint, and kleptomania

Perfect Date: My perfect date is doing something I might do on any old Tuesday night, but with someone who shows me just how absurd and wonderful the whole thing really is.

Perfect Mate: She who is my greatest strength, complete weakness, and best friend
