Lowering the Barrier to Applying Machine Learning

Machine learning is hard for developers to use.

Data Attributes algorithm Experiment

Thesis
Developers applying machine learning need new tools that provide structure for common processes and common pipelines while remaining flexible to account for variability in problems.

We make it easier!

Gestalt supports implementation and analysis to help developers build and maintain a classification pipeline.

Prospect automates experiments and aggregates results to provide new insight into data.